GMCC presents the GMCC Shipbuilding and Supply Chain Summit Thursday, June 21, 2012

Moncton, May 17, 2012— You are invited to attend the GMCC Shipbuilding and Supply Chain Summit on Thursday, June 21st, 2012 at Ramada Crystal Palace.

GMCC's Shipbuilding and Supply Chain Summit will explore the opportunities, but will also take a look at the impacts, related to the shipbuilding and other big projects in Atlantic Canada and Quebec. An exciting list of speakers and presenters will help identify opportunities and also highlight potential challenges that such large projects bring to the Greater Moncton and the New Brunswick communities. The broad theme is broken up into different sessions such as: Education/HR, Transportation/Logistics, Manufacturing and Indirect Opportunities.

This summit will be of interest to all GMCC and partner organizations' members, HR practitioners, academics, manufacturers, small and medium business owners and government, as large projects and their developments affect our community. It can mean business for a company in ways they never thought possible but it will also change our education system, transportation setup, wage levels, immigration stream and so much more.
